

In 2010, Brad was honored with the prestigious Merlin Award, presented by The International Magician's Society - the world's largest organization for magicians. In recognition of his work entertaining family audiences all over the globe, Ross was named "Best International Family Entertainer." The Merlin Award, the Oscar equivalent for the magic industry, is the highest honor bestowed by the magic community, and is based on talent, showmanship, originality, skills and ability to entertain under any conditions. Previous recipients include David Copperfield, Siegfried & Roy, The Great Blackstone and Criss Angel.

"I am proud to honor and recognize Brad Ross for his extraordinary contributions to the magic community... His interactive, engaging style and amazing feats of magic have won him the respect and admiration of his peers and families all over the world."

- Tony Hassini, World President of The International Magician's Society

"Brad epitomizes the essence of quality, live family entertainment that inspires and engages the audience. This honor is a tribute to the passion and dedication he continuously exhibits, and I'm thrilled that he now joins the ranks of the world's greatest magicians."

-Alana Feld, Disney Live! Producer & Feld Entertainment Executive Vice President

Continuing to make his dreams come true, in 2014 Brad began producing his ALL NEW multi-million dollar touring theatrical stage show, Unbelievable – a true story of Brad's inspiring journey to follow his dreams, and along the way motivate audiences to do the same.

Brad Ross
INTERNATIONAL STAR ILLUSIONIST

“When you want something badly enough... believe in yourself and in the magic of your own dreams; then ANYTHING is possible.” - Brad Ross

Part David Copperfield / Part Disney – Brad Ross is THE illusionist who will make you believe in magic all over again.

Dubbed “illusionist extraordinaire” by ABC TV, Brad Ross has been hailed as a world class, modern-day showman with all the charm of the “boy-next-door”. Brad has been dazzling audiences & mesmerizing millions for over 2 decades, and is recognized for his unparalleled energy, originality, and ability to inspire and entertain people from all walks of life. With a style & personality all his own, he is guaranteed to put smiles on the faces of young and old alike.

What started out as a hobby soon became Brad’s entire life! Bitten by the “magic bug” at the age of 5, Brad became intrigued by the art of magic after seeing a magician perform at his 5th birthday party, and after taking a magic class at the local Jewish Community Center, he was hooked! Magic enhanced Brad’s sense of confidence and self-assurance, and introduced him to a world where anything could happen.

“As I got older, I started realizing the gift that magic had given me was the same gift I wanted to give audiences when I performed. Every day on stage, I hope I bring the audience into a magical world of possibility. And after experiencing my illusions, I hope I can inspire people to find the real magic all around them.” he says.

In 2005, after a long search for “the right fit”, Feld Entertainment (in association with The Walt Disney Company) signed Brad to a multi-year contract headlining the first ever Disney magic production, Disney LIVE present’s Mickey’s Magic Show. The opportunity was a dream-come-true for Brad, and one that would allow him to share his magic with the world.

Brad has a remarkable, innate talent for entertaining audiences. His determination and natural ability turned his passion into a profession that has taken him around the globe on multiple world tours, including performances on 5 continents, in 25 countries and in 16 different languages! Recognized as the consummate professional performer, Brad has created an extensive entertainment range and is equally comfortable performing in the most intimate of settings, for private celebrity events or on prestigious theatrical stages, as he is performing on television or in multi-million dollar productions. Featured on over 500 national & international TV programs, Ross’ ability to connect with audiences via television and internet webcasts is equally as appealing as his live performances.
